Experience Overview

Starting in 2017, Richard started Statewide Renewable, LLC. Statewide is determined to offer its clients a focused approach to solar energy. This approach has been met with considerable success and only bolstered our belief that solar can and will work for our clients.

Our first project was developed in South Texas in cooperation with the oldest continuously held ranch in Texas and Magic Valley Electric Coop. The success of this project has led to numerous opportunities with other utilities.

Prior to starting Statewide Renewable, Richard had been with Circular Energy since December of 2010. He helped to sell, develop and manage over $15,000,000 in solar projects in Texas alone. He also helped Georgetown Municipal Energy to develop their solar program and solar incentives. This helped Georgetown learn how solar works but also how to release their D.O.E funds to jurisdiction members. This relationship with Georgetown has helped Richard hone his skills in navigating governmental restrictions and bid while showing the City of Georgetown how feasible solar energy can be. This process led to Georgetown becoming 100% dependent on renewable energy.

Prior to joining Circular, Richard worked 4 years in the home construction field. His time there was spent in sales and development of multiple communities. He helped develop over $30 million of new construction projects for a Fortune 500 company.
